Would this be a lot of work to implement? It would be nice to allow users to sign in with Twitter, but they currently only support OAuth 1, not OAuth 2 yet.

Hey,

It's a bit disappointing that twitter is so sluggish to implement OAuth 2.

We have no plans to support OAuth 1. I understand it is fairly different. And I really believe that I have read somewhere a commitment of them to implement OAuth 2 and even its sibling OpenID connect?

Regards,
