Description

Hi,

I am trying to use WTreeTable widget, it is rendered fine on the Internet Explorer, all rows are aligned to the left, but in Google Chrome each new row is shifted to the right and goes as stairs.

Screenshots are attached.

Thank you, Ravil

Hey,

What version of Wt are you seeing this with?

The version is 3.3.3, I use pre-built binaries, runs on Windows.

Hey,

We could reproduce this problem when using zoom != 100% in Chrome on Windows with a polished theme. Can you confirm that this is indeed your experience as well?

Regards,

koen

Hi Koen,

Yes, that is exactly the case, polished theme and non-100% zoom in Chrome on Windows. Some-how I was always opening the web page for my application with zoom 110 or 125. Now I tried to play with zooming and can see that it works fine with 100, 150 and 200, but for 110 and 125% I have the issue.

Thank you, Ravil
